Ten Sound Reasons for Owning a Home Listed by Realtor Leader

Ten sound reasons for home ownership were listed this week by Lee R. Dawson, president of the Torrance-Lomita Board of Realtors.

Economy was listed as Dawson's first reason for home showing that, all factors considered, owning a home is cheaper than renting.

"Renting provides mere shelter, while home purchasing gives not only shelter but at the same time builds up a valuable estate," Dawson said.

INDEPENDANCE is another reason for home ownership, according to the prominent realtor.

More people have started on the road to financial independence through home ownership than in any other way," he said.

THRIFT HABITS is a good reason for purchasing a home, he adds. The purchase of a home imposes beneficial obligations which encourage systematic saving, he explains.

Add to this the security of home ownership, he reported. "In times of stress, the home with or without a mortgage is a bulwark of safety and protection," Dawson said.

CREDIT RATING gained through home ownership should not be overlooked when considering the merits of such a move. The home is recognized as a fundamental principal of stability, he explained.

Creation of an estate, with the home as the logical foundation, is the goal of the thoughtful man, the Realtor said. "This gives him peace of mind in the knowledge that he has provided proper and adequate shelter for his family."

HOME OWNING is the safest kind of investment because a home, free and clear, can always provide dividends through its use, and leaves the control of his investment entirely in his own hands, Dawson points out.

Such a move also will develop a sense of responsibility and character, he adds another point.

"The homeowner feels greater responsibility with regard to his dwelling and the neighborhood," Dawson said. "Such responsibility makes the homeowner a better citizen by increasing his interest in civic matters."

THROUGH HOME ownership, adequate and desirable play facilities are provided for the moral and physical development of children under the owners' own supervision without fear of criticism or restraint, he said.

And, finally, Dawson emphasized the value of a permanent environment in which to rear his family.

The homeowner has a pride of ownership and the satisfaction of selection of a desirable, permanent location for his family," Dawson said. "He owns a piece of God's earth," he concluded.
